

Suggested Itinerary: Eco-Friendly Erie

Erie County is home to many attractions that are eco-friendly, or “green.” Through certain guidelines, materials and practices, these attractions produce less greenhouse gas emissions making them less harmful and more helpful to the Earth.

DAY ONE

Visit: Erie Art Museum

The Art Museum’s 2015 building addition was Erie’s first attraction to receive a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold certification. Its features include water-efficient fixtures and recycled, rapidly renewable, low-emitting construction materials.

Eat: The Bayfront Grille at the Sheraton Erie Bayfront Hotel

Take in beautiful waterfront views and fresh, locally sourced regional cuisine at the Sheraton Hotel’s award-winning restaurant. It is anything but ordinary.

Visit: Lake Erie Arboretum at Frontier Park (LEAF)

LEAF is a tree museum of more than one thousand trees where environmental wellness is promoted through education and outdoor experiences to children, families and individuals.

Lodging Option: SpringHill Suites by Marriott

DAY TWO

Visit: The Tom Ridge Environmental Center (TREC)

An educational and research center focused on Presque Isle State Park. TREC’s green features include a floating floor to hide utilities, solar panels, and rainwater filters.

Eat: The Cork 1794

Featuring a stylish, comfortable atmosphere and expertly crafted food and beverage menus, the Cork will make your dining experience satisfying and truly special.

Visit: Asbury Woods

Through conservation of nature, outdoor recreation, and education, Asbury Woods strives to appreciate and protect natural spaces. The nature center’s vegetative “living” roof is a popular green attraction.
